SPECIFIC GUIDELINES FOR THE CLEANLINESS DRIVE

- Safety First: Prioritize safety at all times. Use appropriate protective gear such as gloves and closed-toe shoes. Exercise caution when handling tools and equipment to prevent accidents or injuries.
- Team Collaboration: Work together as a team, coordinating efforts to ensure maximum efficiency.
- Waste Segregation: Separate waste into recyclable and non-recyclable categories to promote environmental sustainability. Use designated bins for disposal and ensure proper disposal methods are followed.
- Garden Enhancement: If participating in garden maintenance, follow guidelines for planting and caring for garden pots and plants. Prioritize native or low-maintenance species to promote biodiversity and sustainability.
- Hydration and Rest: Stay hydrated throughout the day and take regular breaks to rest and rejuvenate. Avoid overexertion and pace activities to prevent fatigue or exhaustion.
- Waste Disposal Protocol: Adhere to designated waste disposal areas and procedures. Dispose of waste responsibly and avoid littering or leaving behind debris in the environment.
- Respect for Environment: Treat the surroundings with respect and care. Avoid causing damage to property or natural habitats during cleanup activities.
- Post-Event Cleanup: After the event, ensure all tools and equipment are properly cleaned and returned to their respective storage areas. Dispose of any remaining waste or debris and leave the area clean and tidy.

School of Pedagogical Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University Cleanliness Drive Report

Event Date: 22nd February 2024

Event Time: 9:00 AM onwards

Venue: School of Pedagogical Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University

Objective:

The cleanliness drive was organized in preparation for the forthcoming NAAC visit, aiming to enhance the aesthetics and cleanliness of the School of Pedagogical Sciences (SPS) campus.

Participants:

The event saw active participation from faculty, students, and scholars across various departments within the institution. A total of 90 individuals contributed to the drive, each assigned to specific tasks and groups.

Activities and Assignments:

Cleaning Groups: Participants were divided into teams to address different areas within the campus, including the front side of the SPS building, car shed, courtyards, educational technology lab, first aid and crisis management, computer lab, psychology lab, ground floor, food and refreshment management, and 1st floor.

Safety Measures: Prior to commencing the cleanup activities, safety measures were emphasized, and participants were advised to use appropriate protective gear such as gloves and closed-toe shoes. Cautionary guidelines were provided for handling tools and equipment to prevent accidents.

Waste Management: Participants were instructed to segregate waste into recyclable and non-recyclable categories. Designated bins were provided for proper disposal, ensuring environmental sustainability.

Garden Enhancement: Those involved in garden maintenance followed guidelines for planting and caring for garden pots and plants. Emphasis was placed on selecting native or low-maintenance species to promote biodiversity.

Hydration and Rest: Regular breaks were encouraged to prevent fatigue, and participants were reminded to stay hydrated throughout the day.

Waste Disposal Protocol: Adherence to designated waste disposal areas and procedures was ensured to maintain cleanliness post-event.

Conclusion:

The cleanliness drive was a resounding success, thanks to the enthusiastic participation and dedicated efforts of all involved. The campus underwent significant improvement, aligning with the institution's commitment to maintaining a clean and sustainable environment. The event not only prepared the campus for the NAAC visit but also fostered a sense of community and responsibility among the participants.

Acknowledgments:

We extend our sincere gratitude to all faculty, students, and scholars who actively participated in the cleanliness drive. Special thanks to the organizing committee for their meticulous planning and coordination, ensuring the smooth execution of the event.

Future Endeavors:

Moving forward, we aim to sustain the momentum gained from this initiative by implementing regular cleanliness drives and fostering a culture of environmental consciousness and responsibility within the institution.
